

Phuket Old Town Discovery Walk

This discovery walk is all about learning the local lifestyle of Phuket. To pull the curtain and immerse yourself in the local culture, like Penang, Phuket has a mix of influences and cultures that make it a unique foodie and cultural spot in Thailand. Its historic old town is a gem waiting to be discovered.

We start at the fresh market in the morning it's an explosion of colors and people, it's a sight that will leave even the well traveled surprised. Food has to be present too, so we will try the Muslim influence roti and some Chinese food as well, brought here by the Hokkien immigrants in the 19th century. It's delicious and local. We go to where the local connoisseurs know.

Some sections of Phuket town look right back from the mid 50's, the printing shops, the old sarong and cloth Indian sellers on Thalang, the hardware stores, there is a nostalgic feeling about town you should experience before modern times sweep all that away.
