

PHUKET OLD TOWN NIGHTWALKER

We start at the On-On hotel which looks beautiful in the evening with its façade brightly illuminated a great introduction to the old town. We walk pass the amulet market and into Rassada road until we arrive the fresh market. In the early evening it's quiet with trucks unloading products for the next day and it's quite a sight to behold.

We continue through a small alleyway into Krabi road which is the evening is perfect for photography as there is little traffic and the houses look just gorgeous in the evening.

For dinner we have two places that we have selected one of them is for more adventurous eaters, Joy Pochana in front of the Thai Hua museum is a great place to try some local dishes in an only locals atmosphere. For more conservative clients we will go to the equally delicious Kotipiam, owned by the Willay family were they make some classic Nyonya (straits cuisine) such as bakute or moo hong.
